DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendments in the reply filed on 08/13/2008 is acknowledged and entered into the record.
2. Accordingly, Claims 3-7 and 9-13 are pending and will be examined on the merits.

Claim Rejections Maintained - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. The rejection of Claims 3-7 and 9-13 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoshida et al. (PgPub 20040001824) in view of Zenmyo et al. (Calcified Tissue Int. Vol. 67(5). pp.378-381, 2000) as evidence by Miyaji et al. (reference of record in May 5, 2005 IDS) is maintained for the reasons of record.
6. Applicant argues that "amended Claim 3 is directed towards a method for treating chondroma and chondrosarcoma comprising administering anti-PTHrP (1-34) antibody.

Art Unit: 1643

On the other hand, Yoshida et al. shows inhibition of the proliferation of cells that are stimulated by PTHrP(34-53). Thus, Yoshida et al. fails to teach or suggest inhibition of chondroma and chondrosarcoma by administration of only anti-PTHrP(1-34) antibody.” This argument has been carefully considered but not found persuasive.

7. The claims are drawn to a method of treating chondroma and chondrosarcoma "comprising" administering to a subject anti-PTHrP(1-34) antibody. The claim broadly reads on a method of administering anti-PTHrP(1-34) antibody and can comprise other method steps, such as pre-treatment of the cells. Yoshida et al. clearly teaches the anti-PTHrP(1-34) antibody (see Claim 5 of Yoshida et al.), the deposited hybridoma FERM BP-5631 (see section [0074]) and discloses methods of treating diseases induced by cell proliferation by administering said antibody (see section [0126]).

8. Therefore, the rejection of Claims 3-7 and 9-13 is maintained for the reasons of record.

All other rejections are withdrawn in view of applicants amendments/arguments filed in the response received on 08/13/2008.

Conclusion

9. Claims 3-7 and 9-13 are rejected.

10. No Claim is allowed.

11. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
